

YOU'RE INVITED!!

Step Up and Act for Children

Press Event

September 16th, 9:30 am

South Side of the Capitol grounds, downtown Raleigh

Across the country on September 16th, child advocates are planning nonpartisan events on Capitol steps to call on candidates to increase federal investments in children and make children's issues a priority in the 2008 elections.

Come out to help Action for Children and partners call on all 2008 candidates for federal office to commit to increased investments in children. Experts will speak briefly on SCHIP, Juvenile Justice, the Child Tax Credit and No Child Left Behind.

AGENDA (30-40 minutes)

- Action for Children to open with broad statement on declining federal funding for children and the need for federal candidates to commit to increased investments.
- David Tayloe, Jr., MD, President-Elect of the American Academy of Pediatrics and Action for Children Board Member, will speak about the need for immediate reauthorization of SCHIP and elimination of the CMS directive so that NC can insure more children.
- Sheri Strickland, President of NCAE and Educator, will speak about the need to overhaul and appropriately fund No Child Left Behind.
- Linda Hayes, Chair of the Governor's Crime Commission, will speak about reauthorization of the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act.
- Louisa Warren, Policy Advocate at the N.C. Justice Center, will speak about expanding the Child Tax Credit.
- Action for Children close, open for questions.

The closest parking for the event would be the Wilmington Street parking deck between Wilmington and Fayetteville streets. Click here for a map of downtown with the Capitol and parking garages noted.

Action for Children is an independent, nonpartisan 501(c)(3) dedicated to improving outcomes for all of North Carolina's children. Please visit Action for Children's website at www.ncchild.org to learn more about the organization.

Thanks to all of you for your help and participation!!
